Training Games, Inc. was started in 2001 by Gary Trotta and Mick Riley. These two partners decided to start this company after completing successful careers in training and business. The company has continued to grow and develop every year since inception. We are committed to promoting gaming as a concept in training; and developing a line of programs to support this goal. We want to build our business through superior customer service and unique products.

Introduction to Training Games

WHAT ARE TGI TRAINING GAMES?

TGI has developed training and educational game software to help you present and review your own training questions and material. Because they are games, trainees/students enjoy participating, have fun, and experience better overall retention levels. TGI Games range from our standard Quiz Show and Board Game formats to realistic sports games like Football, Baseball and Golf. TGI Games are economical solutions for business, government agencies or educational Institutions. Choose the game that is right for your group or purchase several games to add excitement into your program.

HOW DO TGI TRAINING GAMES WORK?

TGI Games spice up your entire educational program because they allow you to easily place your own training/educational questions inside a fun and interactive game. Create multiple choice questions from your own program materials and simply type them into the game. Then set a few game options like naming the game, name your teams, decide how you want your questions delivered and you're ready to PLAY. Everything else is done for you. TGI Games are packed full of program options to make every game fun, exciting and easy. TGI games are built in either MS PowerPoint or Excel making them versatile and easy to use. Most games can be played by teams in a classroom setting or by one person against the computer. (Note: TGI PowerPoint games can be played online as well!) A great way to review or study! TGI also offers FREE professionally written Question Sets on our XF games including: Customer Service, Leadership, Sexual Harassment, Work Force Trends, Women's Issues, Diversity & Team Building. All of our packaged Question Sets may be edited to better complement your training needs.

WHY ARE TGI PRODUCTS Microsoft Office BASED?

TGI has developed these products in Excel or PowerPoint to keep game costs low and to make using them EASY. Game interfaces are familiar and user friendly with virtually NO LEARNING CURVE. In addition, if you currently use MS Excel or PowerPoint, TGI games will work flawlessly on your computer system (No sticky IT Issues)!

Licensing Information

TGI has divided our licensing into different categories. These licenses are:

Single User License

This is for a single user only. It can be used to "train" as many people, as you like, inside or outside of your company by the user assigned the license. Under this license, TGI Licenses are issued for the lifetime use of the product unless otherwise indicated (Note: Certain TGI products licenses are offered as both Annual (Expire one year from purchase) and Lifetime Licenses).

10-User License (purchase multiples for larger groups)

This is a single limited business license and can be used or distributed to up to 10 employees inside of your company. It cannot be sold or distributed to anyone outside of your company. It can be used to "train" as many people, as you like, inside or outside of your company. Buy multiple copies of this license to equal the number of users that will have access to this software. TGI Licenses are issued for the lifetime use of the product unless otherwise indicated (Note: Certain TGI products licenses are offered as both Annual (Expire one year from purchase) and Lifetime Licenses).

Call us for more information about the following licenses: Enterprise License (One license for your entire organization), or Affiliate Licenses (To sell TGI Products and earn commissions on the sale).

Lifetime and Annual Licenses

All TGI products carry a lifetime license, however on some products, for organizations that may want to purchase a game for one special event, we have made available Annual Licenses on selected products. These products can be used for up to one year. (The product will need to be purchased again in one year if desired).

At Training Games we are introducing a new and innovative product line we called XF products. The XF stands for eXtra Features. These products are loaded with unique and valuable game and training features which engage class participants and enhance learning. The below XF features are found in most of our XF games. On occasion we must exclude features which are not compatible with the scoring or play of the particular game. ' Here is a XF feature recap:

Team Play Features:

- 1.) Team play features up to 8 teams with as many as 20 players/team.
- 2.) XF team games can be set to be play with many different options and question delivery choices. In addition there are two distinctly different team game formats we call our Quiz Show and Peril games. The Quiz Show Format allows the answering team to first select a question category from 3 categories before answering. Alternatively, this game can be played by having an opposing team select the question category for the team that is up. In this way we ensure more player involvement on each and every question. Peril, is a jeopardy style team game. "I'll take Leadership for $600".
- 3.) Team games can be played in Normal or Fast Response mode. Fast Response means the team that answers first gets the question. The XF games work with USB Buzzer Systems or manually (i.e. teams ring a bell or raise their hands to signal they have the answer).
- 4.) There is even a Random Team Selector built into the game for yet another way to select a team to answer.

Single Player Features:

- 1.) Single player games include "You against the Computer" in which you first determine the percentage of questions that your computer opponent will answer correctly and a Millionaire style game called "All The Way". In this game you play for ever increasing score values with the game ending only when you answer incorrectly.
- 2.) Single player games display the "TOP TEN" player scores at the end of each single player game. A great way to have participants compete and learn.
- 3.) In addition, a single player database records individual scores, No. of correct and incorrect answers as well as the specific questions individual players missed. The database can be extracted and easily e-mailed to a central location for review.

All in all TGI XF games can have up to 15 different game configurations and ways to play so trainees may never see the same game twice.

Question Features:

TGI XF games provide you with several innovative ways to input, save and distribute questions within the game. A special HELP file is found within the Questions Database itself to provide you specific instructions for inputting questions. We've listed some additional XF game question features found throughout the game below:

- 1.) Handles Multiple Choice (A,B,C, & D answers), True/False or Fill-in the blank type questions.
- 2.) Questions can be presented in sequential or non-repeating random order.
- 3.) Import questions from a separate file OR enter/edit your questions directly into the game.
- 4.) Question font size can be increased within the game for greater visibility or decreased to accommodate lengthy questions.
- 5.) The number of questions remaining in the game is displayed on the scoreboard as well as on other question/category selection screens.

- 6.) Question Categories disappear when all the questions in the category have been used.
- 7.) The game automatically ends when all game questions have been used (or when pre-set game time has expired).
- 8.) TGI XF games contain a built in pre-work and follow-up review file. This is a game within a game delivering training questions which can be e-mailed to participants as a pre-training exercises or post-training review (Located within the Questions Database File).

Adding Sound, Text and Graphics to Individual Questions:

- 1.) Additional Graphic. This is the ability to attach an external graphic image to any question, adding visuals to your question presentation. This affords the facilitator many different display options (Charts, tables, pictures) and also allows the instructor to expound on the question, and the learner to more clearly understand the information being presented. Note: PowerPoint allows you to save entire presentations as individual slides in the below listed formats, and attached these to questions as needed. Image formats include GIF / JPG / BMP / EMF or WMF.
- 2.) Additional Sounds. This is the ability to attach an external sound file to any question. This can be your voice or music. The XF games also feature a sound recorder (Questions Database). Using a computer microphone you can record, create and attach WAV files to any of your game questions.
- 3.) Additional Text. This is the ability to attach additional text to a question which can be popped up over the question. This is perfect for inserting an exercise, a comment, a hint, an explanation or reference information. Text can be typed directly into the Question database located in the game. This text box display will also allow you to scroll down when reading large text entries.

4.) Additional File. This is the best of all of these features. With this option you can attach an external file of any type to a question. Exceptions: File type must be supported by your computer and cannot be another MS Excel file. Examples of the types of files which can be used are multi-media files like movies (AVI), MPEG, or MP3 files. Also a PowerPoint file saved as a Slideshow (PPS) will slip seamlessly into your game making it an easy way to present training material to your group from inside the structure of a game. The same game can be used for review afterwards to reinforce the learning.

5.) Additional sounds, text, graphic and file buttons appear with the question during game play and can be used to present additional information before or after the question is answered. Button labels may also be changed (For example, you might create a HINT, or More Info button). Change button labels on the Setup screen.

Important Note: You might well wonder why we have gone to great lengths to provide a means to inject additional information in the form of sound, text, graphics and other files types into the middle of a game. We know that TGI games do a great job when it comes to grabbing the learners attention. People are intensely engaged as they play. This is of course the first thing you want to do when instructing; focus the learners attention. Now with your learners interested and engaged in what's being said, there's no better time to build on this interest. When learners start to conceptualize, mull over, and think about information, they begin to assimilate and consolidate the leaning into their knowledge base. In this way training games become more than just effective review tools, but can be used to deliver core course content.

Scoring and Game Strategy Options

These are options that add strategy and fun into each game. We've provide a full array of options which can be easily added into or removed from your training game (Setup screen).

1.) Pass Option: This is the ability for a team to pass the question to the next team. This is not available in the single player game.

- 2.) Lose 1 Option: This option will allow the team with the question to have the computer eliminate one wrong answer from any multiple choice questions that have more than three possible answers.
- 3.) Double Option: This option will allow the team answering the question to double the points value for this question.
- 4.) Mystery Score Option: This option will allow the answering team to elect to play for a random point value for the current question. The minimum and maximum possible point values are set on the Game's Setup screen (From Min. 1 to Max 99).
- 5.) Mini-Game Option: This option will allow the team with the question to play a mini-game and increase the questions overall point value. There are six possible mini-games which can be displayed and are shown at random. Mini-games work as point multipliers, the better the mini-game is played - the higher the point multiplier (up to 6X). For example, Solving a mini-game on the first try will multiply the questions point value by 6. So a question originally worth 5 pts. Is now worth 30!
- 6.) Allow Minus Scoring: This option will allow points to be deducted for incorrect answers. Typically team/players are not penalized for incorrect answers. All the above options can be selected to appear in a game on the setup screen and at the facilitator's discretion.

Program Options found in XF Games

The Program MENU button located in the top left corner of the screen has many different functions.

- 1.) The "Go to..." navigation will allow you to move to various game screens.
- 2.) The "Adjust Sounds" buttons will let you adjust the volume level of the computer sounds.
- 3.) The "Adjust Scores" button opens a pop-up that allows you to adjust the scores on the scoreboard (a great "just in case" feature)
- 4.) The "Manual End of Game" button forces the game to end. This is a great option if your game is running long and you need to wrap it up to stay on schedule.
- 5.) "Restore Full Screen" maximizes the full screen size for game play.
- 6.) The "Tie Breaker" is available to help decide tied games.

Game Customizing Features:

- 1.) Name Your Game: On the Setup screen you can enter a game name to coincide with your learning program.
- 2.) Team Player Names: Enter team and player names that will appear on the scoreboard and on question game screens.
- 3.) Organization Logo: On the Setup screen enter your organizations logo. Use GIF or JPG formats.
- 4.) Auto Adjusting Scoreboard - TGI's XF games offer you many different game and scoring options. The scoreboard will automatically adjust to show just the options you select for each game
- 5.) Scoring Labels: Scoring can be recorded in Points, Dollars, Pounds or Euros
- 6.) Question Categories: Within the Questions Database you can input up to three program or question categories (Default categories are Easy, Medium, and Hard).

Sound Features:

- 1.) Great Game sounds (The good , the bad, and the ugly)
- 2.) Program start and Intermission music on main game screen
- 3.) Wait sound - As in "I need your answer NOW!"

Game Time Features:

- 1.) Game timer can be set from OFF to up to 4 hours of game play.
- 2.) Game automatically ends when pre-set time has expired (or game runs out of questions).
- 3.) 5 minute overtime feature - Use this for tied scores or if your group just doesn't want the game to end!

One Final Feature Note:

On the main screen of the game we've placed a chalkboard/flipchart. Here you can enter questions and notes that come up during your program. A scroll (down) bar is automatically available should you fill the screen with notes. In addition, you can copy and send notes to class or meeting participants.

At Training Games Inc., we not only develop games to help YOU teach and train, but we'll come to your meeting to present them too. We are available for your next training function. We use our own training games to give your next meeting a great jump start with our executive staff available to make sure everything goes right. We can develop and incorporate insightful questions, using your own training program materials, into one or several of our games and present them to your group in a fun and exciting way. Or we can provide a complete training game for many popular business programs, which we've listed below. At the end of the meeting, you keep the training questions and our game for your own follow-up use. You will not believe the level of participative fun and excitement generated by our games! We are ready to present the following at your next meeting:

- An opening or after lunch Ice Breaker game.
- A thought provoking and fun Team Building game.
- A review of your training material presented in a game format.
- Popular business programs in a game format.

Available Topics Include:

Sexual Harassment, Diversity, Customer Service, Leadership, Team Building, Negotiations and Selling Skills, Presentation Skills, Work Force Trends, Productive Meetings, Time Management, or any combination of these. Or we can develop a training program using your training material.
